Master Negative Storage Number

OCI00037.31

More, Hannah

The history of Hester Wilmot

West-Smithfield [London]

[18--]

Reel: 37 Title: 31

BIBLIOGRAPHIC RECORD TARGET PRESERVATION OFFICE CLEVELAND PUBLIC LIBRARY

RLG GREAT COLLECTIONS MICROFILMING PROJECT, PHASE IV JOHN G. WHITE CHAPBOOK COLLECTION Master Negative Storage Number: OC100037.31

Control Number: ADN-9919 OCLC Number: 28783803

Call Number: W PN970.E5 HISHE2x Author: More, Hannah, 1745-1833.

Title: The history of Hester Wilmot, or, The second part of The Sunday school.

Imprint: West-Smithfield [London]: Sold by J. Evans & Co.; London

: [Sold by] J. Hatchard; Bath: [Sold by] S. Hazard,

[18--]

Format: 15 p.; 18 cm.

Note: Cover title.

Note: "[Entered at Stationers Hall.]"

Note: Title vignette.

Subject: Chapbooks, English.

Added Entry: Evans, John, 1753-1820.

MICROFILMED BY PRESERVATION RESOURCES (BETHLEHEM, PA)

On behalf of the Preservation Office, Cleveland Public Library

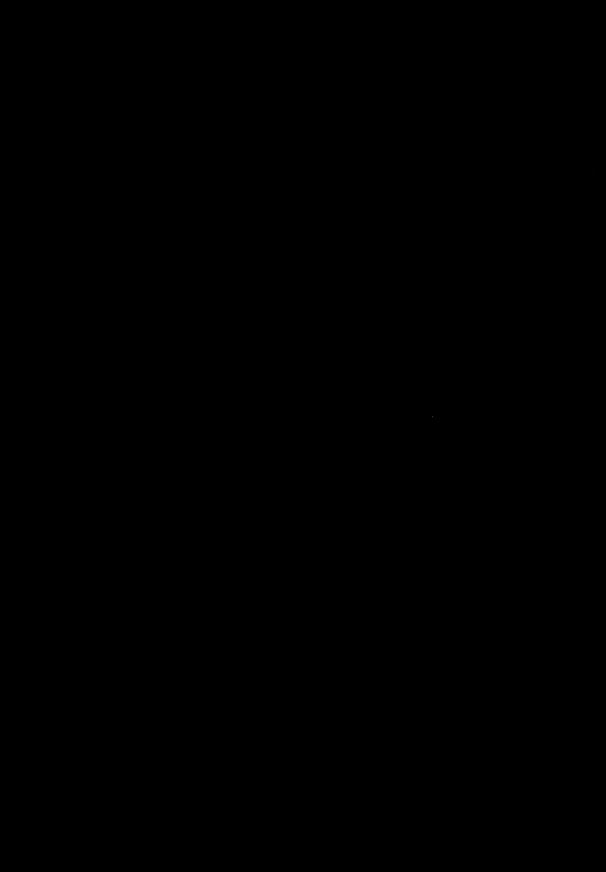

Cleveland, Ohio, USA

Film Size: 35mm microfilm Image Placement: IIB

Reduction Ratio: 8:1

Date filming began: $\)\ 2 |31 |94

Camera Operator:

Cheap Repository.

THE

HISTORY OF

HESTER WILMOT,

OR THE

Second Part of the Sunday School.

SOLD BY J. EVANS & Co.

(Printers to the Cheap Repository for Moral and Religious Tracts,)
No. 41 and 42, Long-Lane, West-Smitfield, and
J. HATCHARD, No. 190, PICCADILLY, LONDON. By S. HAZARD, BATH. And by all Booksellers, Newsmen, and Hawkers, in Town and Country.

Great Allowance will be made to Shopkeepers and Hawkers.

PRICE ONE PENNY,

Or 6s. per Hundred.

[Entered at Stationers Hall.]

W. KROLER MILL

HESTER TOUR OF

I ESTER COMMENT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF Worten, of perent now minitality them. tes by thest Libert they well both of them in-Commence of the contract of th all lived backy openion that a south ley do service forestress to be on the service services. they had no reduce the surface down this disrence, of to leady them the topy outh to bear and cath other's hills from the Wingawas a continue religion and serve and serve and oligonaria littles, set be but had have turn in the set be but had a large reson designed as the story and a character anoignie. Last 100 College and the Land William Bentless. whost in a construction of the control of the second because in the Appear of the state of the stat British Land Manne 12. December 18 18 1811011. the Almannak, at a self one, one the movidians with the strong and the service of the a roquist signification to the to the son of ganassig of the first and a state esquition of the training bandens for the transfer of the same

White PN. 470 .E5.

THE HISTORY OF

HESTER WILMOT, &c.

IESTER WILMOT was born in the parish of I Weston, of parents who maintained themselves by their labour; they were both of them ungodly, it is no wonder therefore they were unhappy; they lived badly together, and how could they do otherwise for their tempers were very different, and they had no religion to smooth down this difference, or to teach them that they ought to bear with each other's faults. Rebecca Wilmot was a proof that people may have some right hualities. and yet be but bad characters, and utterly destitute of religion. She was clean, notable, and industrious. Now I know some folks fancy, that the poor who have these qualities need have no other; but this is a sad mistake, as I am sure every page in the Bible would shew; and it is a pity people do not consult it oftener. They direct their plowing and sowing by the Almanack; why will they not consult the Bible for the direction of their hearts and lives? Rebecca was of a violent, ungovernable temper: and that very neatness which is in itself so pleasing. in her became a sin, for her affection to her husband indeghildren was quite lost in an over-unnious detire to have her house reckoned the nicest in the parisha Rebenca was also a proof that a poor wonden may be as vain as a rich one for it was not somuch. the comfort of neatness, as the praise of neatness. which she coveted. A spot on hen hearth or a bit of rust on a brass candle tick, would abrow her into a violent passion. Now it is very right to keep the hearth clean and the candlesticks bright, but it is very wrong to set one's affections on a hearth, or a cardlestick, as to make one's self unhappy if any triffling accident happens to them: and if Rebect carbad been as careful to keep her heart without epot, or her life without blemish, as she was to keep her fire irons free from either, she would have been held up in this history, not as a warning, but a pattern, and in that case her nicety, would have come in for part of the praise. It was no fault in Rebeccal but a merit, that her cak tible was tso beight you could almost see to put your cap on in to thus it was no merit but a fault, that when John. ben husband, laid down his cup of beer upon it is o esto leave a mark, she would by out into ad terrible a passion, that all the children were forced to run to corners; now poor John having no corner to run to, ran to the ale-house, till that which was at first a refuge, too soon became a pleasure,

Rebecca never wished her children to learn to good, because she said, it would only serve to make them laxy, and she herself had done very well with put it. She would keep poor Flester from church to the the space under the chairs in fine patterns and whim whams. I don't pretend to say there was any happy in this little decoration; it looks pretty enough, and it is better to let the children do that than also ingthings . That still these are notablines us see one's heart upon gramp besides Rebegos only did it at a trap for praise of for she was sultry and diet appointed if any ladies happened to call in and did pot seem delighted with the figwers which she used to draw with a burnt stick of the white wash of the chimney pomers. Besides, all this linery was often done gra Sunday, and there is a great deal of harm in doing right things at a wrong time, or in wasting much urue opithings which are of no real use, or in doing any thing at all out of vanity. Now I beg that no laxy slattern of a wife will go and take any comfort in her dist from what is here said against Rebecca micety, for, I believe, that for one who makes her husband unhappy through neatness. twenty do so by dirt and laziness. All excesses are wrong but the excess of a good quality is not so common as the excess of a bad one.

Lehn Wilnigt was not an ill-natured man, but be had no fixed principle. Instead of setting himsel to cure his wife's faults by mild reproof and a good examples he was driven by them into still greates faults himself. At is a common case with people who have not eligion, when any cross accident bed fallenhem, instead of 15ying to make the best of a had matter instead of considering their trouble as a trial sent by God to purify them, or instead of considering the faults of others as a punishment for their own sins, what do they do but either sink down at once into despair, or else run for comfort into evil courses. Drinking is the common remeder for somow, if that can be called a remedy, of which is to destroy soul and bedy. hegan to spend all his leisure hours at used to be fond of his children; but wh of the second the time if i mistake not, that string the south second that the second He grewtimitiene of the come home it all stewno handere to be said to be guiltyouf one sink only. John's beant became har deflect His affection for his family was lost in self-indulgence. Patience and submission, on the part behis wife, might have won much upon a man of John's tempera but instead of trying to rectain him, his wife seconed rather to delight in putting him as much in the wrong as she could, that she might be justified in her constant abuse of him. doubtemberable would have been as much pleased with his reformation as she was with always talking of his familts, though, I know it was the opinion of die neighbours, that if she had taken as much pains to reform her husband by reforming ber dwit temper as she did to abuse him and expose him, her undervours might have been blessed with success. Good Christians who are trying to subdite their own faults, can hardly believe that the ungody Have a sort of savage satisfaction in trying, by induspence of their own evil tempers, to lessen the happiness. of those with whom they have to do. Need we look any farther for a proof of our conjust hardre, when we see mankind delight in sins which have meirfier the temptation of profit or pleasuer, such as plaguing wexing, or abusing each other. Hester was the eldest of their five children , she was authorp, sensible girl; but at fourteen years old she could not tell a letter, nor had she eyer been L milight to bend her knee to him who made ker for John's or nather Rebecca's house, had selftom the parine de Chilippronounced in it except to be blas-was just about this time, if I mistake bot, that The Sunday School of School was inches were sent to School of the William West a sent to School of the Walk to Repect a school of the was opened to a school of the Walk to Repect a schoo which she desired her to send her children ministe Sunday following especially her eldest daughter.

Hester away if to?—Give her a remined what will you give her if to?—Give her a remined blins.
Jones that is rather a rulle question, and asked in a rule manner however that a safe ranswest turned away wrath. I assure you that I will reflect when the best of learning. I will teach there to there when the and keep bis commandments! A would inather you would teach her to lear the and to keeping house clean said this which woman? She sham comes, however, unless will pay her for it. In they her for it. In the shared enough that she will be taught to reach the wond of God without any expense to you he From through the children work books and electhing, will be given the children work with any hour benefictors. I make these gates on orgood will in your benefictors. I make the payment and they work they work to consider these gates. They children they benefictors. I make the make they are make. Religion is of house that I know of but to make Religion is of no use that 1 know of but to make people hate their own flesh and blogd; and lace no good in learning but to make folks proud and lazy, and dirty. F cannot tell to tester myselfar and though I say it that should not say it; there is not notable woman in this parish. beging Brang and Mis Jones mildly, do you think that young people will disobey their parents the more for home in asseguidad eriest han tripink annihing about it." simil Rebecks: 357 shan's leb hen domed and mining's dite igngward should of the matter a Hester has wher fished frije bud your may have some of these dittle most if you will "tor" Not" said birs dones " lewell not, I have not detrup he hurseny, but a schooles id embrount ablithis experice to take crying below out of the mother's way; but to instruct orcasonable beings in the way to eternal life; and it ought toobe hirule in all schools not to take the troublesome young children unless the mother will try to spare the ylder ones, who are capable of learning." ! But," said Rebecca, 6 Thave a young child which Hester must mire while I dress dinner. And she must iron the rage, and scountie irons, and dig the potatoes, and fetchithe water to boil them . As to nursing the follidahatindeed is a necessary duty, and Hester ought constant homespart of the day to enable you to go whereby and fantilies should relieve each other in this way font as to all the rest, they are no reasons let att, for the irons need not be scouned so often. and the rugs should be i round, and the pointoes dug, and the water fetched, on the Saturday Hand I dan telk you, that neither your minister here war your judge hereafter, will accept of any such excuses " All this while Hesten staid behind pale and treithing lest her unkind mother should carry her point his he looked upont Mrs. Jones with so much leve and gratifude as to win her affection rands this good-lady went on trying to soften this harshemother. At that Robera condescended to say, "wells I don't old distant I may let her come now and then when I been space her, provided I find you make it worth been while? All this time she had never asked Mrs. Topies to sit down, nor had once bid her young Childrend sharidates at blong by they were boying land signallings the amboled time as Rebeccas fanded this rudeness was the only way she had only the wing she houghtdierselfas goodas henguest, had Mrs. Jones hevel last ded temperes. The memelineshe went out of this house, Rebecce called put boud, enough for her technique and ordered Hester to get the stone and whit of sand to scrub out the prints of that thirty wonan sahoes. Hester, in high spirits, cheerfully nbeyed, and rabbed out the stains so heatly, that her mother could not help lamenting that so handy a garl was going to be spailed by being taught godtiness and leavning and such nonsense no Mes. Jones who knew the world; told her agent. MirsoCrew, that hengrand difficulty would agise not se much from children as the parents of These, said she state apt to fall into that sad mistake, that because their children are poor, and have little of "this world's goods, the mothers must make it up to them in false indulgence. The children of genery are much more reproved and corrected. their faults, and bredoup in far stricter decipline. able wasaking who said chastently son and let not the roul spares for his enging. But do not lose your patience; the more victors the children are, you must remember the more they staid in need of your instruction when they are had comfort yourself with thinking, how much worse they would have been but for you; and what a burthen they would become to society if these evil tempers were to redelve bootheck?' The great thing which enabled Myse Crawto teach walk was, the deep insight she had got into the corruption of human nature. And I doubt if any one can make a thoroughly good seacher of religion and prorals who wants this manknowledge, decency, and good manners, but those, however valuable, are not, Christianity. Mrs. Crew, who knew that put of the heart proceed lying, theft, and all that train of exils which begin to break out even in young children, applied her labours to correct this root of evil. But though a diligent she was an humble teacher, well knowing that unless the grace of God blessed her labours she should but labour in vain.

Hester Wilmot never failed to attend the school whenever her perverse mother would give her leave and her delight in learning was so great, that she would work early and late to gain a little time for ber book. As she had a quick capacity, she learned soon to spell and read, and Mrs. Crew observing her diligence used to lend her a book to cary home that she might pick up a little at odd times. would be well it teachers would make this distinction. To give, or lend books to those who take no delight in them is a useless expence; while it is kind and right to assist well disposed young people with every help of this sort. Those who love books seldem hurt them, while the slothful, who hate learning, will wear out a book more in a week than the diligent will do in a year. Hester's way was to read over one qustion in her catechism, or one verse in her hymn book, by fire light before she went to bed; this she thought over in the night; and when she was dressing herself in the morning, she was glad to find she always knew a little more than she had done the morning before. It is not to be believed how much those people will be found to have gained at the end of the year, who are accustomed to work up all the little odd ends and rembants of leasure who value time ever mode than money. And who sie convenced than money and white than pender than pender than be wasted than pender than be deligened who finds he has wasted a similar trap by deligened hope to tetch it up again. But he repentance of the dustry can ever bring back one wasted hourse My good young teader if ever you are tempastic to waste an hour, so and ask a dying than what he would give for that hour which you are throwing away, and according as he answers so do you actually and according as he answers so do you actually.

and according as he answers so do you act of a look. Hester was forced to fear nout of sight. It was no disobe-dience to do this, as long as she wasted no part of that time which it was her duty to spend in useful Pabor. She would have thought it a sin to have left her work for her book; but she did not think it wrong to steaf time from her sleep, and to be learn-ing an hour before the rest of the family were awake Hester would not neglect the washing tub, but the spinning wheel, even to get on with her catechisms; but she thought it fair to think over her quetions while the was wishing and spinning. In a few months she was able to read fluently in St. John's gosple, which is the easiest. But Mrs. Crewidid not think it enough that her children could read a chapter, she would make them understand it also he is in a great degree owing to the want of religious howledge in teachers, that there is so lintle religion othe world. Unless the bible is laid ropen to sthe understanding, children may read from Genesicuto the Revelation, without any other improvement, han bearly learning how to pronounce the works. Mrs. Crew found there was but one way to compel their attention this was by obliging them togethern Dack again to hear the sense of what she had read to mom, and this they might do in their own abords. if they could not remember the words of scripfure, Those who had weak capacities, would to be super to this very imperfectly; but even the weakers if they were willing, would retain, something lo She so managed, that saying the catechism was not merely an act of the memory, but of the undert standing; for she had observed for merly, that those who had learned the catechism in the common format way when they were children, had never understood it when they became men and women and it remained in the memory without having made any impression on the mind. Thus this fine summary of the christian religion is considered as little more then a form of words, the being able to repeat which, is a qualification for being confirmed by the bishop, instead of being considered as really containing those grounds of christian faith and practice, by which they are to be confirmed christians. Mis. Crew used to say to Mrs. Jones, Those who teach the poor must need give line upon line precept upon precept, here a little and there a little, as they can receive it. So that teaching must be a great grievance to those who do not really make it a labor of love. I see much levity, obstinacy, and ignorance, that it keeps my own forbearance in continual excercise, so that I trust that I am getting good myself while I am doing good to others: "No ene, Madam, can know till they try, and after they have asked a poor untaught child the same question nineteen times, they must not lose their temper but go on and ask it the twentieth. Now and then when I am tempted to be impatient. I correct my self, by thinking over that active proof which our blessed Saviour requires of our love to him who " Feed my lambs." he says an Hester Wilmet has neven been bred to go to build his bent abecard mother had never thought of going themselves am asquit achnistening in their own laminy, or at a fungral of the renighbours, both of whigh they considered merely as supportupin ice ion good leating and drinking, and not as of merely an according various or bunness in ylesens selde poor blestenhad no comfort, at home, it was they less monden she delighted in her school, her Bibles and churchs for so great is God's goodness, that he is pleased to make religion a peculiar come fortworthuse who have no other comfort...... The God whose name she had seldom heard but when it was taken in vain, was now revealed to her as a God of infinite power, justice, and holiness. What she read iochen Bible, and what she felt in her own heart comminced her she was a sinner; and her catechism said the same. She was much distressed one day valthinking over this promise which she had just mader fin answer to the question which fell to her lots: "the renounce the devil and all his works, the pamps and vanities of this wicked world, and all the similal lusts of the flesh." I say she was distressed on finding that these were not imerely certain words Which she was bound to repeat; but certain conditions which she was bound to perform. She was padly puzzled to know how this was to be done, till the met with these words in her Bible; 'My grace is sufficient for thee.' But still she was at a loss to Hagm how this grace was to be obtained. Happily Man Simpson preached on the next Sunday from the text Askiand ye shall have &c. In this sermon mas complained to her the nature, the duty, and the efficacy of prayer. After this she opened her heart d. Music Greye who taught her the great doctrines in serve the frequency among configuration of the serve of scripture, in a serious but plain why in Hester's own Heart led her to assent to the lumbing docation of the catechism, that We are by nature form his and truly glad was she to be relived by new was liftly of that spiritual prace by which we have we no sooner humbled by one part than it gained come fort from another. On the other hand, while she was rejoicing in a lively bope of God's merey throught Corist, her mistress put her in mind that that was the only with repentance by which we presake six the only will repentance by which we presake six the only was found to contain all the driveles of the christian was found to contain all the driveles of the christian tarth.

Mrs. Johes greatly disapproved the practice of furning away the scholars because they were grown ro. Found people," said she, " wint to be warned at sixteen hibre than they did ut six, and they work commonly turned adrift at the very age when they with most instruction; when dangers and tempter tions most beser them. They are exposed to more evil by the leisare of a Sunday evening than by the business of a whole week; but then religion busis be made pleasant, and instruction must be carried on in a kind, and agreeable, and familial way! If they once dislike the teacher they will woon gerto dislike what is taught, so that a master or mistress is in some measure answerable for the future piety of young persons, inasmuch as that piety depends on their manner of making religion plesant as well as profitable." To attend Mrs. Lones's evening instructions was soon thought not a task but a holiday. In a few months it was reckoned a disadvantage to the character of any young person in the parish to know they did not attend the evening school. At first, indeed, many of them came only with a view to learnesorsing pealms in but, by the blessing of God, they grawfond of instruction, and some of them become truly pious. Mrs. Jones spoke to them one Sunday eyening as follows . My dear young women, brejoice at your improvements but rejoice with trembling. I have known young people settout well, who afterwards fell off. In The heart is deceitful. Many like religious knowledge who do not dike the strictness of religious life. I must therefore watch whether those who are diligent at church and school are diligent in their daily walk. Whether those who say they believe in God, really obey him. Whether they who profess to love Christ keep his commandments. Those who hear themselves commended for early picty, may learn to rest satisfied with the praise of men. People may get alknack at religious phrase without being religious; they may even get to frequent places of worship as an amusement, in order to meet their friends, and may dearn to delight in a sort of spiritual gossip. while religion has no power in their hearts. But I hope better things of you, and things that accompany salvation though I thus spake." 59What became of Hester Wilmot, with some adcount wof Mrs. Jones's May day feast for her school may be seen in the second Part of this - what is rangelt so that a master or mytestella ran some measure answered to the future piety give ing persons interpret as that piety depends excluding and aner of making religion plesant as well an gaineve END OF THE FIRST BART. Addition in ructions was soon throughtener a task but a holiday. ten nenths it was reckoned a disadvantage to accharagrer of any young person in the parish to know they did not attend the evening school. e.st adeed, many of them came only with a view to

THE FOLLOWING

TRACTS

J. E VANS AND CO.

The History of Mr. Bragwell 7 Parts price 64.
The Two Shoemakers 5 ditto 44.

The Story of Joseph and his Brethren.

The Explanation of the Ten Commandments.

Prayers to be used by I Young Person, by a Grown Person, by the Master or Mistress of a Sunday School, &c.

Price Propence.
The History of Tow White, the Postillion.
The Shepherd of Salisbury Plain.
Black Gibes the Poacher, in Two Parts.

Price Three Halfpence.

WATER Hymns for Children, complete, with Prayers.
The History of Mary Wood.

Mr. Fantom.

The Labourers in he Vineyard.
The Velley of Tears, in Two Parts.
The Judgment Day.

Hints to all Ranks on the Searcity of 1795.

The Two Soldiers.
The Thunderstorm.
Tis all for the Best.
The Cottage Cook.
The Sunday School.
Hester Wilmot, Part 1.11.
The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

A new Christmas Tract.
Good Friday Tract.
Parley the Porter.
The Fall of Adam.
The Black Prince.
The Cheapside Apprentice.
The Lancashite Collier Girl.
The Life of William Baker.
Betty Brown.
The Shopkeeper, 4 parts.

The Good Mother's Legacy. The Beggarly Boy. Noah's Flood The Troubles of Life. The Harvest Home. Sorrowful Som Tawney Bachel. Charles Jones, the Footman. General Resurrection and Day of Judgment. Onesimus Patient Joe, Witd Robert, Faith and Works, Gin Shop . Sinful Sally, Robert and Richard, Hampshire Tragedy, Bad Bargain. Turn the Carpet, Christmas Hymn, Army of Martyrs.